Be A Chief Diversity Office (CDO): Challenges, Actions, and Solutions

New Faculty & Academic Leader Orientation

August 2020

Robin R. Means Coleman, PhD
Vice President and Associate Provost for Diversity
Professor, Communication

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY
Office for Diversity
The mission of the Office for Diversity is to implement and coordinate Texas A&M University’s Diversity Plan by providing leadership and support to the academic and administrative units as they embed diversity and inclusion in academic and institutional excellence. The Office for Diversity works to advance accountability, campus climate, and equity across the university while resisting racism, bias, and discrimination.

The Office for Diversity team: Dr. Robin Means Coleman, Dr. Jennifer Reyes, Deyanira Ely, Crystal Carter, Dr. Gabriela Zapata, Darby Salge, Redeem Francis, and Lawren Walker

We establish \textit{accountability} within the institution by developing \textbf{strategies}, plans, and processes that \textbf{promote progress} and create an environment that fosters \textbf{success and achievement}.

We develop a supportive \textit{campus climate} that \textbf{values and integrates diversity} in the pursuit of academic excellence by identifying aspects of Texas A&M’s community that foster or impede an inclusive working environment.

We integrate into the mission and goals of the institution, the assurance that students, staff, and faculty, regardless of identity, are \textbf{all treated equitably}.

Addressing campus climate issues is a primary concern because of the impact campus climate has on student, faculty, and staff recruiting and retention.

Increasing diversity is a tangible representation of the level of institutional commitment to diversity and directly influences a sense of belonging among historically underrepresented students and faculty (Hernandez and Lopez, 2004; Johnson et al., 2007).

Improving campus climate has also been shown to influence the professional success of historically underrepresented faculty and the academic success of historically underrepresented students (DeCastro et al., 2013; Driscoll et al., 2009; Hurtado et al., 1998; Helm, Sedlacek, and Priet, 1998; Turner, Gonzalez, and Wood, 2009).
Campus Climate | Actions & Solutions

- Developing visible functionality
  - All leadership are Chief Diversity Officers (CDOs)
  - Strategic leadership vs. crisis leadership
  - Transformational planning

- Marketing diversity and inclusion
  - Representing the institution’s commitment to diversity needs to be authentic, evolving beyond pictures of posed multiracial/ethnic groups to sharing personal experiences and stories, so people can see “someone like me is finding their way through A&M”

- STRIDE Training
  - Participants learn about best practices to ensure a fair and equitable search process and to minimize the influence of implicit bias.
  - Know the difference between hiring and recruitment
Neurodiversity

- Caption your videos on websites and in presentations.
- Universal Design - Flexible learning environments are sound pedagogy for all.
- If it’s not accessible, it’s not inclusive.

Students registered with Disability Resources in Fall 2019

- 2,587 students registered for services
- Fall 2019 Categories
  - 26% ADHD
  - 24% Mental health
  - 22% Learning
  - 16% Health-related
  - <13% - Physical, hearing/deaf, autism, visual/blind, temporary, traumatic brain injury, speech impairment, intellectual, and/or deaf/blind
You Know You’re a CDO if...

- Your unit’s diversity committee is made up of more than URMs and/or women
- You use data to repair leaks in success pipeline for staff, students, faculty
- You view diversity as a catalyst for academic excellence
- You enact diversity in intentional ways that enhance students’ intercultural competency, cognitive complexity, and ability to work in diverse groups (Milem et al.)
- Your syllabus is inclusive of women, BIPOC, and doesn’t have “diversity day”
- You address equity in academic achievement for all students, with particular attention paid to groups historically underrepresented in higher education (Bauman et al.)
Expanding the scope, and understanding, of “equity” beyond salary to address, for students, faculty, and staff:

- Advancement
- Promotion
- Professional development
- Student success/graduation rates
- Student leadership development
- Start-up packages
- Career ladders
- Leadership succession planning
- Mentorship vs. Sponsorship

Enhancing Diversity Seminars

The Enhancing Diversity Seminars are designed to engage the campus community in dialogue around topics and issues related to diversity, campus climate, equity, and inclusion.
Be A CDO-Strategies:
Fully Integrated Diversity, Equity, Inclusion (DEI)

- National Association of Diversity Officers in Higher Education (NADOHE): “facilitate a shift from ‘total responsibility’ […] to a system where every member of the institution has a […] responsibility.”

- Inclusion, support, exploration of differences, diverse learning environments
  - Embed in Core Values: respect, excellence, leadership, loyalty, integrity, and selfless service

- In service to our Publics
  - Campus, Alumni, Communities, State (as a land-grant)

- Use your P-Card with Historically Underutilized Businesses (HUB)
  - Cindy Gillar, HUB Administrator, 979-845-3819, c-gillar@tamu.edu
Be A CDO-Strategies:
Personal Accountability Strategies

- Caution: Secondary trauma, Carrying trauma home/other spaces
- Know your values and that of university
- Listen and be coach’able
- Avoid benevolence models
- Work for the common good (Daniel Washington, SMTD, 2009)
- Don’t haze yourself
- Naturally Slim Wellness Plan
- Don’t eat the cheese cubes, bread, or (too many) breakfast tacos!
